Harford County Commission for Women Plans Community Conversation on Human Sex Trafficking

BEL AIR, Md., (April 19, 2019) - The Harford County Commission for Women will hold a community conversation to discuss human sex trafficking, with insights from law enforcement, victim advocates, and victims. This important conversation is open to the public from 6:30 p.m. to 8:00 p.m. on Monday, April 29 at the New Destiny Evangelistic Church, 2080 Trimble Road, in Edgewood.

The evening will feature a panel including professionals from the FBI, Maryland State Police, Harford County Sheriff's Office, and SARC - the Sexual Abuse Resource Center in Harford County. Discussions will include a trauma-informed approach by law enforcement in sex trafficking cases, information about how predators groom victims, legislation, prevention and recovery. Audience members will also be invited to ask questions.

Participants are encouraged to RSVP by contacting Kristy Heim at 410-638-3389 or klheim@harfordcountymd.gov.

The Harford County Commission for Women consists of 15 volunteer members appointed by the county executive and approved by the County Council. Their mission is to support the economic, social, and political equality of women. For more information about the Commission for Women, please visit www.harfordcountymd.gov or contact 410-638-4739.
