

Tips for parents

Ways to Promote Mental Wellness in Your Child/family

- Create a safe space and home environment - maintain positive routines that include healthy meals and adequate rest
- Help your child develop strong, caring, and connected relationships - spend time regularly with your child and the family
- Encourage your child to express his or her feelings - listen to and respect their feelings; do not react with anger or shock- Stay calm, reacting with anger, shock, or denial may stop the conversation before it starts.
- Encourage your child's independence and confidence - show support in their ability to handle problems and new experiences
- Remember that you are the role model - consider your own coping skills and ensure that you are setting a positive example - show them how to promote mental wellness.
- Start the conversation - talk to your child about mental health so they know you are open to talking about it:
